

ADVISER Status Update

September 14, 2022

2022-2023 ADVISER Certification

- All primary SIS vendors are certified to send 22-23 data
- ESU3 certified this week, should be syncing now
- Powerschool will be coming out with updates to support the new Attempt Status and Instructional Time Planned fields later this month – these fields are not needed for the Fall collection window however
- SRS will likely be certifying this week
- See 2022-2023 ADVISER Vendor Certification – Nebraska Department of Education for details about status of test plans and any issues

2022-2023 ADVISER Status

- The ADVISER web and database servers are struggling under the load of the initial Fall rush
  - We processed 400k sync requests on 9/5 vs. 3 million on Monday 9/12
  - This is causing slowness in syncing and/or errors for no response (and may slow down ADVISER Validation as a side effect)
  - We have added some additional hardware to help on 9/13, didn't seem to completely get things back to normal yet so we are looking at additional changes
- NDE looking at adding some fixes to ADVISER Validation that have been in our queue in the next few weeks
- Instructional Unit report that uses new planned minutes field will be developed in the winter

2022-2023 ADVISER Data Elements

- An update to the 2022-2023 ADVISER Data Elements document was released yesterday with some guidance tweaks, no significant changes
- Review Appendix A in the document located at ADVISER Resources – Nebraska Department of Education for list of changes

2021-2022 Neb. Education Profile

- The NEP Secure app for districts in the NDE Portal is offline while NDE prepares the 2021-2022 data
- The first NEP Secure release will include the standard demographics and teacher data, plus the statewide assessments
  - Statewide Assessment download reports in ADVISER Validation will be updated soon as well
- NDE will be doing updated AQuESTT classification reports this year, as well as updating the list of federal CSI/TSI/ATSI designations (first time since 2019)
- NDE still making some policy decisions about this data before NEP Secure is released, communications will go out to Superintendents and the bulletin once a release date is confirmed
